Commercial Credit Assessment

Approaches to the Analysis of Bank Lending to Commercial and SME Customers

OVERVIEW

This intensive five-day course is designed to provide lending and credit risk management professionals with a thorough understanding of the essential principles of commercial and SME credit analysis and to strengthen and expand the professional skills and knowledge of experienced Corporate, SME or Retail lenders. Tailored to address the needs and demands of lenders operating in emerging and fast-growing markets (that must cope with additional challenges stemming from a rapidly changing business and information environment) the course provides the delegates a comprehensive understanding of the credit process, including gathering relevant information from customers, evaluating loan requests, assessing a company's ability to service debt, and structuring loans and how such concepts/tools as industry sector and economic analysis, non-financial analysis of management, strategy and financial planning, business and operating models, competitive risks and market positioning, and also financial statement and ratio analysis and interpretation.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

The course has been designed for lending and credit risk management professionals with experience with a variety of customer segments or recent entrants to lending with a good background in accounting and financial analysis. The programme has also been designed to benefit experienced commercial or SME Relationship Managers and Credit Risk Managers, where training would enhance their ability to coach or mentor junior staff members. This includes credit professionals within departments such as Credit Risk Management, Credit Policies and Procedures, Risk Assessment, Credit Approval, Loan Administration/ Monitoring, and Collections and Workouts in relation to SME or commercial lending. If you are asking yourself any of the following questions, then it is definitely for you:

- How can I understand, map and incorporate key industry and business risk characteristics into my assessment of the SME market?
- What are the fundamental non-financial characteristics of a business which should inform a lending decision?
- How can I improve the effective use financial statement and ratio analysis in a market where financial information is questionable at best?
- How can I structure a facility to manage risk more effectively?
- How can we avoid being surprised by or unprepared for an increase in problem loans?

sharing knowledge, developing skills

OUTLINE

OBJECTIVES

Participants in the course will come away with:

- An understanding and methodology for assessing risks within different SME segments and for performing industry sector analysis
- The ability to identify, understand and mitigate non-financial business risks that could adversely affect a company's operations and ability to repay debt
- An understanding of financial accounting and how to perform financial statements and ratio analysis
- An appreciation of cash-flow analysis and how they are used to assess a borrower's ability to service debt and structure loans
- The ability to structure and negotiate a credit facility and to effectively use loan covenants to mitigate risks in the future

COURSE DELIVERY

- This is a five-day course totaling 35 hours of delivery time.
- It consists of ten tutorial modules approximately 2 hours each (i.e. a total of 20 hours of instruction).
- A further fifteen hours of the schedule is dedicated to intensive group work and exercises, underpinned by case studies, all facilitated by the instructor.
- All hand-outs and instruction will be in English; participants should have a good working knowledge of English.
- The course can be customised to the specific needs of the client, to ensure maximum relevance and benefit.
- Ideally delegates should have at least three years experience working in a bank either in a general management or leadership role, or employed in credit risk management or lending role.
- Because the course involves participative group work on case studies, and considerable interactivity during tutorials, the number of participants is limited to no more than 20.

TRAINING SURVEY & POST-TRAINING EVALUATION:

To ensure that participants gain maximum benefit from the course, it is our practice to send a detailed questionnaire to all course participants to ensure we fully understand their specific training needs and objectives. The completed questionnaires are analysed by the course instructor who will tailor the course content and style of delivery to the requirements of the participants. Following completion of the course, participants are asked to measure and assess the effectiveness of the training. The results are collated and reviewed, and the analysis shared directly with the relevant client stakeholders.
